DONALD, B. C., correspondence of the Kamloops Sentinel mentions that at the court of assize held recently at Donald in the case of Frank Provost, charged with the killing of one Lapage, medical testimony proved that the blow dealt the deceased by the prisoner in no way contributed to his death. Consequently Provost was promptly acquitted.

THE Dominion Illustrated of June 14th contains a full page engraving of Rev. Dr. Lang, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Canada, Stanley Park bridge, Vancouver, B. C., View of the big trees in Stanley park; Montreal Lacrosse team and other subjects of interest. The Illustrated merits the support of every one who has an interest in Canada.

E. NAGLE, who was trapping on the Athabasca this spring from Fort Assiniboine to the Landing, reports that the timber along the stretch from Fort Assiniboine to the mouth of Lesser Slave river has not been burned and that it is far superior in quantity and quality to anything on the Saskatchewan. Bears are very numerous along the Athabasca in that stretch, probably driven there by the fires of last year in the country along the Pembina and Saskatchewan.

President Van Horne told Mayor Lafferty during his recent visit to Calgary that there would be no road constructed south this year, but that 100 miles would be built north. The construction of the new roads would involve the remodelling of the C.P.R. yards and grounds at Calgary and this matter would be taken up at once. He had arranged to meet Mr. Jas. Ross, of the Calgary & Edmonton on his return from the coast, when they would deal with the joint requirements of the two roads.

REV. E. B. GLASS of the Methodist mission at Bear's Hill has handed the BULLETIN a copy of his "Primer and language lessons in English and Cree," prepared with a view to its use in Indian schools of all classes in the Northwest. It is printed by William Briggs, Toronto, and in paper, printing and binding is all that could be desired. English words are given on one page with the equivalent Cree word in syllabics on the opposite page throughout. The book will be found a valuable aid to those employed in teaching Indian children in the Northwest and its usefulness is not by any means confined to the school room. The Cree speaker desiring to learn English or to the English speaker desiring to learn Cree will find it to be exactly what they each require.

A MEETING of the directors of the Edmonton agricultural society was held in the Edmonton public school house on Saturday afternoon of last week. Present: M. McCauley president, J. Cameron, Geo. S. Long, W. Walker, M. McLeod, W. Stephens and D. B. Wilson, Jas. Martin, secretary-treasurer. The bonds offered by the treasurer as required by ordinance were accepted. It was decided to accept the cup offered by the H. B. Co., and that the cup should go to the exhibitor making the greatest number of points in the prizes offered for farm produce and stock. A 1st prize to count 3 points, a 2nd prize 2 points and a 3rd prize 1 point. The cup to be won three years in succession before becoming the private property of the winner. A committee was appointed to act jointly with a committee of the board of trade in memorializing the federal government on the subject of an experimental farm for Edmonton. Forty dollars was voted to pay for the printing of 1,000 immigration pamphlets, for distribution in the east. Another meeting of the directors will take place on the last Saturday in July to make arrangements regarding the fall show.

It appears that the BULLETIN telegram of last week stating that construction had already commenced on the Calgary & Edmonton railway was a mistake. A Mr. Laidlaw is at Calgary, however, preparing to go to work at a sub-contract as soon as final arrangements have been made between Van Horne and Jas. Ross, and work will probably commence next week.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, JULY 5, 1890.

THE NORTHWEST VS. DAKOTA.

A gentleman recently arrived from Dakota gives the following statement of the forms to be observed and expenses incurred by Canadians taking up land in that region as compared with the Northwest:

Dakota—Must be 21 years of age. Homestead entry fee $14. Drawing up and filing papers $3. Taking out interim citizen's papers $1. Must live on homestead five years to receive patent. To get deed must advertise five weeks in local paper at cost of $5 to $6.50 say $6. Fees to Judge of probate for taking evidence in proving up claim $10. Final citizen's papers $25. Total expenses $39.

Northwest—Can enter for homestead at 18 years. Entry fee $10. Patent granted after three years residence. No incidental expenses. Settlement duties about the same in both cases.

The difference to a young man or to a farmer desiring to settle his growing sons around him is very marked. In the Northwest a young man can have his patented farm on reaching 21 years of age. In Dakota he cannot secure his patent until he reaches 25 years.

A pre-emption right in Dakota is entirely separated from a homestead right. This pre-emption cannot be taken adjoining the homestead nor at the time the homestead is taken. It may be taken either before the homestead is entered for or after the patent for it has been granted. The pre-emption is 160 acres and the price $1.25 an acre to be paid at the end of 33 months from entry. The entry fee is $4, and a separate set of citizen's papers is required. Settlement duties must be performed similar to those necessary in the case of homesteads.

A tree claim may be taken up at the same time as either a homestead or pre-emption, and may be adjoining, but only one quarter of each section is available for a tree claim. The entry fee is $14, and still another set of citizen's papers are required. The duties are to break 5 acres the first year. Plant this with trees the second year. Plant this with trees the third year, and if at the end of eight years there is a living tree for every four foot square of the ten acres, the patent will be granted. As the case stands there is not a tree claim in Northern Dakota on which the owner is entitled to patent as the growth of trees has been uniformly a failure.

Although the pre-emption right has been abolished in the Northwest and there are no tree claims—as there are practically none in Dakota—the homesteader in the Northwest may purchase a quarter of the same section on which his homestead is situated if one is vacant at $2 to $2.50 an acre according to distance from railway, paying one quarter down and the balance in three equal annual instalments. No settlement duties are required on the purchased land. If the homesteader desires to purchase land at any other time than when he enters for his homestead, or land which does not adjoin his homestead, he may be allowed the privilege. It will be easily seen that the advantage of having 33 months time in which to pay for his pre-emption, which the Dakota settler is allowed, is much more than offset by the disadvantages of not having it adjoining the homestead and the extra settlement duties required.

Second homesteading is not allowed on either side of the line.

Edward Farrar, recently of the Mail and now editorial writer of the Globe will receive $5,000 a year salary. He was receiving $3,400 on the Mail. Brains may in Canada as well as in most countries, when they are owned in sufficient quantity and of necessary quality. The Globe has been sadly in need of somebody who knew something around its establishment for a good many years.

Prince Albert has a population of 726. The total value of real estate in the town is placed at $984,144.

The rivalry between the G. T. R. and C. P. R. is not confined to the central or western provinces of Canada. It is extending to the maritime provinces, and the objective point is the winter asport of Halifax which each company desires to reach by the shortest route. The C. P. R. have been busy during the past year or two in trying to bleed the government to construct the now celebrated Harvey and Salisbury branch in New Brunswick which would shorten by a few miles their route to Halifax at a cost of untold millions to the federal treasury. The C. P. R. route from Montreal to the maritime provinces crosses the state of Maine by the so-called short line and inasmuch as it does cross the State of Maine it is objectionable. The Grand Trunk is now putting in claims for assistance in the construction of a connecting link in their system as an alternative to the Harvey and Salisbury project, which it is claimed will give a shorter all Canadian route than the C. P. R. route across the State of Maine over the Harvey-Salisbury branch is built. The distance from Montreal to Halifax by the C. P. R. with the Harvey and Salisbury line completed would be 721 miles. The distance by the G. T. R. with the proposed connection would be 689 miles. Halifax favors the Grand Trunk scheme.

The Calgary Herald of June 24th goes wild again over the BULLETIN's publication of the rumor of the purchase of the South Side Indian reserve, and frantically calls for proof of the "charge," which it says is the most serious that can be laid against a cabinet minister. If this is the case it is to be hoped for the sake of the cabinet minister that the "charge," which if made by any one has been made by the Herald, certainly not by the BULLETIN, is incorrect. The Herald says: "The BULLETIN itself first manufactures a statement in one issue and then refers to it as a rumor in its next issue." Does the Herald deny that the rumor in question was current in Edmonton before it was published in the BULLETIN? And if it was current does it deny the propriety of its publication? If the Herald cannot deny one or the other of these propositions it should shut up on the subject and for the sake of its stockholders and readers cease advertising its imbecility.

The Ontario mining commission reported that all that was required for the full development of the iron resources of Ontario was admission of the ore free to the United States market, as it would be under unrestricted reciprocity. The Cleveland Iron Trade Review replies: "No section of the McKinley bill is more likely to remain as it is than that which continues the duty (on iron ore) at 25¢ a ton. And there is good reason for this in the very argument which the commission bring forward, viz., that, with the duty removed, Canadian ore could be laid down at Lake Erie ports and Chicago in direct competition with Lake Superior mines. We have a very friendly interest in Canada, but it is too much to ask us to surrender the interests of American capital, labor and shipping just to help out our northern next-door neighbor."

PUBLIC NOTICE.

The Calgary Tribune of June 28th mentions that J. G. Fitzgerald of that place lost two large and valuable horses early in the spring. The most diligent search failed to recover them. He was indirectly informed that $25 would cause their return and at last consented to pay the amount, which resulted in his horses being returned. The Tribune speaks of "a gang of thieves who were making a practice of catching horses and holding them for a reward." Several Edmonton freighters have from time to time lost their horses near Calgary mysteriously, and it was more than suspected that such was the case with the one by the Tribune existed. If there is such a gang it is about time for the police stationed at Calgary to get a movement on, with a view of stopping their operations, and if the citizens would assist, they doubtless could. It would considerably improve the present reputation of their town. By the way, if there is any scurrility or libel in mentioning this item of the Tribune's the Herald can have its usual copy by taking its usual means.

Free Press: Heligoland figures as "booby" in the African trade between Great Britain and Germany. It is a rocky isle in the North Sea, having an area of about a quarter of a square mile, and in 1877 contained a population of 2,000. It was taken from the Danes by the British on 5th September, 1807, and confirmed to England by the treaty of Kiel, 14th January, 1814. It has been used principally as a depot for British merchandise. It is a sentimental value only; but as sentiment goes a long way with Britons, it is natural that there should be a good deal of opposition to its surrender.

The Medicine Hat Times in dealing with the Calgary Herald on the subject of the Northwest convention at the Hat remarks: "It is evident that they (the promoters of the convention) made an irrefragable blunder in not bidding high for the sentiments and opinions of the editor of the Herald, foran editor who has all his life been accustomed to selling these necessary qualifications to the highest bidder must naturally feel indignant when he receives no bid at all for them."

The Free Press of June 24th says: "Tenders for the construction of the Calgary and Edmonton railway will probably be asked for within the next week."

The Regina Journal says that rains have been so heavy in that vicinity that the gophers have been drowned in their holes.

J. G. Fitzgerald of Calgary sued the Canadian government in the exchequer court to recover $1,300 alleged by him to be due for services as returning officer in the parliamentary election in Alberta, in 1886. The court heard the case at Calgary on June 23rd. Judgment was given for Fitzgerald but the amount was not fixed.

A London cable to the Globe says the news of General Middleton's resignation has been favorably received there, but the general says he has not resigned and is sick of Canadian newspapers.

Jimmy Smith, a Chinese cook in Calgary died on Sunday and left $4,500 to help to found a hospital; besides smaller sums to several charities.

The grading outfit at the Lethbridge end of the Galt railway have removed to the boundary line and will work north so as to make earlier connection with the work from Groat Falls.

The Regina Leader claims for the capital the honor of publishing unaided an imperial telegram, which it modestly remarks, "could be credited to any town."

Egan Bros. railway contractors are at work extending the Glenboro, Manitoba, branch of the C. P. R. to Plum creek.
